Prevention of Sleeping Sickness in Horses

Two doses must be given, from seven to fourteen days apart, during the month of April, and will provide immunity till fall. It should be pointed out that two doses of vaccine are necessary for complete protection.

Vaccine will be available at drug stores, municipal offices and from registered veterinarians in Alberta. Qualified veterinarians will administer the vaccine, but in districts where the veterinarian is not available, arrangements have been made for some other authorized person to receive special instructions on the proper procedure for vaccinating animals.

Authorities agree that mares in foal may be vaccinated with safety, providing the vaccine is properly administered. Young foals are very susceptible to the disease and the Department recommends that they be vaccinated when two, or, three days old, providing they are normal at this time. Only about one quarter of the dose for an adult horse should be administered to a young foal.

Farmers and horse owners are warned to be on guard against unqualified persons advocating the use of any other than "Chick" vaccine. The Department of Agriculture has recommended the use of this product only after careful study and investigation, and as far as can be ascertained at the present time, there is no other form of vaccine which is satisfactory.

In conclusion, the Department of Agriculture strongly urges that all horse owners vaccinate their horses with "Chick" vaccine during the month of April. If this is done, there will be little chance of an outbreak causing appreciable losses and owners may forget their worries insofar as the danger of this disease is concerned.

Further information for the prevention of Equine Encephalomyelitis will be gladly furnished by the Department. Inquiries should be addressed to the Provincial Veterinarian, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Intensive Search In 'Gold' Swindle

An intensive search is being conducted for three men who last week swindled a Forest Lawn resident out of $3600.

Circulars were issued yesterday, and were sent to all the major towns and cities in Canada. They tell how William Ronak, farmer, gave $3600 to three men who sold them brass fillings instead of gold.

HIGH SCHOOL PARTY

Friday, March 24th was a night of fun and excitement for the young people of Chinook and district, when Mr. J. Charyk, High School principal, and his pupils entertained about eighty people aboard their "S. S. Chinook High".

The assembly-hall in the school was decorated in lilac and white, to represent the deck of a steamship. The entrance consisted of a paper gangway. The east side of the Hall was decorated with port-holes and paper chains, the west side with bunting and lifebuoys. The north end of the hall was a scene of sky and water. The railings, life-belts and life boats only made the steamboat look more realistic. The orchestra pit consisted of a tent of lilac and white paper. Balloons and a steering gear added to the decoration.

As each guest boarded the ship, they were welcomed by a reception committee, consisting of Rev. Mr. Whaley, Mr. Charyk, and the High School Pres.—Miss Chrissie Coutts. The girls were given large paper hats and the boys small cardboard ones. For an hour and a half lively games put everyone into a joyful spirit. During the dancing period each person was given two noisemakers, and these were all most effectively used.

Six of the High School girls, dressed in white uniforms and sailor caps, served a very dainty lunch at midnight. Mr. Warson, the popular school janitor acted as the ship's chief cook. During the supper hour Mr. Whaley sang two comical songs, and Miss B. Rasmussen gave a pretty accordion selection.

After supper, prize dances held the spotlight. Miss Helen Kulyk and Mr. Jack Gingles won the balloon dance; Miss Margaret Maurer and Mr. Chester Olsen won the spot dance; and Miss Dorothy Rasmussen and Mr. Earl Robinson won the prize waltz. Each person was then given confetti, serpentine and balloons to toss at his fellow dancers.

Upon leaving each lady was presented with a gaily dressed Cupie-doll as a souvenir. Everyone reported having a most enjoyable time, one that never will be forgotten.

Miss Pearl and Elmer Spreeman left on Monday for Olds. They will return when it is time to put the crop in here.

Miss Alice Gilbertson left Monday for Olds where she has secured a position.

Round About Town

Did you hear about a certain young lady who couldn't go home last Sunday? Well we saw her out enjoying a walk that afternoon—consequently we decided that the "date" was the reason for her staying over.

One home in the southern part of the town was a scene of laughter and excitement on Friday night. Did the popcorn have something to do with it? Or was it popcorn—girls?

It's hard to say good-bye, isn't it? More than one realized this last Monday, Chinook lost a ray of sunshine when Alice departed from our town. What is our loss is Old's gain.

Well we see that a certain young lad believed in the proverb—"A faint heart never won a fair lady" and he has finally been victorious. We were so glad to see this school couple, on such friendly terms at Cereal.

We hear that some of the town's young ladies received a bad fright on Sunday night. Too bad the girls became scared so easily. Maybe it was one of their dreams prices who had arrived.

Why did Miss X. dash into the hotel in such a hurry at 1:30 o'clock one morning. She must have received a wireless from the town of B to have been able to rise so early. We wonder if her girl friend at the hotel got one from the south also.

An Agricultural Program

With every evidence in support of the statement there appears to be good ground for the belief that the long era of drought which has spelled disaster for the prairie provinces during the past decade is now a thing of the past and that farmers and businessmen have reasonable hope in looking forward to a series of a period of years of sufficient if not plentiful moisture.

Assuming this to be true it is not unreasonable to suppose that most farmers are laying plans involving a definite agricultural production policy which they hope to be able to follow for the next few years, in much the same way as the business man has to do, if he is to be assured of some degree of success in his ventures.

With agriculture, as in the commercial world, any long range policies which may be laid down for future guidance must necessarily be elastic to take care of unforeseen circumstances which may arise—to provide for emergencies which had not been thought of and to meet changing conditions which are ever present and frequently cropping up in a world which is subject to frequent changes, even violent ones, at times.

Despite these unanticipated conditions, however, a policy or plan should be laid down for future guidance and adhered to as closely as future circumstances permit, on the farm, in the store and in the warehouse. A goal cannot be reached unless a definite pathway towards it is laid down and pursued. It may be necessary at times to make detours, but these detours should eventually lead back to the main highway. In other words a following of the will o' the wisp can lead nowhere, in agriculture, any more than in commerce.

Self Sustenance

Insofar as the agricultural industry in the prairie provinces is concerned, the lessons of the past few years combined with present day world, national and local conditions appear to indicate that, given sufficient moisture in precipitation or storage, it is highly desirable that every farm produce as nearly as possible everything that will provide for the sustenance of its occupants, as an insurance policy against future want or the necessity of falling back upon the country for the necessities of life.

It would seem desirable, as far as it is feasible to do so, that every farm should produce its own supply of meats, dairy products, vegetables and even fruits, for real self-sufficiency has been demonstrated that an ever widening range of fruits can be produced on the prairies, even apricots and plums. It is true that some of the larger tree-borne fruits produced on the prairies are not equal in size and quality to similar fruits raised in British Columbia and California, nor are they as easy to grow under mid-continental climatic conditions, but they can be grown, they can be processed at home in various ways that make them quite palatable and they are better than none at all.

As for vegetables, all except the most exotic varieties, it is now well known that the very finest of these commodities can be grown to perfection on the prairies. It is not necessary to enumerate varieties here. In every district there are one or more farmers growing them or who have grown them in abundance and the information is readily available from the departments of agriculture, the universities and the experimental and demonstration farms operated by the government or under government direction.

Work Involved

Always provided, of course, that sufficient water is available, there appears to be no reason why all these healthful foods—meats, butter, milk, eggs, cheese, vegetables and fruits should not be raised on every farm, at least in sufficient quantities to supply the families dependent upon them and perhaps a surplus to exchange with neighbors or, where local markets are available, to sell.

Where natural shelter is not available such a program necessarily entails the planting of trees and their subsequent care, but with trees and shrubs available from the government without cost, this need be no deterrent.

It is true that such a program entails a considerable amount of labor, but the days when the farmer could throw some seed in the ground, take off a bountiful cash crop in the fall, dispose of it for a good price and bask on Californian beaches the rest of the year have evidently gone, perhaps for ever.

It is quite evident that the time has now come, even with plenty of moisture available, that the pursuit of agriculture on the prairies, to be successful, will involve close attention to the job the year round and that means a great deal of work, but after all for the great majority of people a medium of success is only attainable through work and plenty of it.

A program mapped out to cover a period of years ahead, plus intelligent application of labor will go at least some distance towards ensuring a partial stabilization of agriculture in the west, even during these difficult times, and perhaps difficult times ahead.

Five years ago air line publicity people estimated the percentage of air-sick passengers approached three or four per cent. Operation at higher altitudes during recent years—between 4,000 and 10,000 feet—has cut the number of air-sick passengers to three out of every thousand. Air sickness is less frequent than seasickness.

Discuss New Agreement

Under Which Canadian Press Will Extend Service To CBC

A new agreement between the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and The Canadian Press, under which the CBC will be given an extended news service was discussed in the common radio committee at Ottawa.

Hon. H. H. Stevens (Con., Kootenay East) asked Gladstone Murray, CBC general manager, for particulars of the agreement. Mr. Murray said that for some years The Canadian Press had supplied the CBC with news bulletins free of cost. Now the CBC proposed to greatly extend its news on the air and The Canadian Press had offered to provide the additional service and be paid only for the out-of-pocket cost entailed in the preparation of the bulletins, which was estimated at $20,000 a year.

"I do not wish to criticize this agreement," said Mr. Stevens, "but The Canadian Press has the Havas news service, which interpreted continental European news. The point was raised whether the British United Press was a United States agency. Mr. Murray said he was not in a position to state."

(The Canadian Press obtains its European news from its own London bureau, the Associated Press, Reuters, a British news agency, and Havas, a French service.)

Epicures Prize Onions

Average American Consumes About Ten Pounds Every Year

The State Agricultural Department believes that the average American consumes ten pounds of onions every year in his quest for seasonings. The onion, the department says, is "high on epicures' lists at the moment."

Housewives in buying onions are advised to select those that are sprout or in which the seed stem has developed, or that show signs of rot, especially if they are moist at the neck.

Onions that have a brown stain on the crown are not necessarily injured if they are hard and dry, the department said, adding that much of the stain will disappear when the outer layers are peeled off. Misshapen onions are sometimes wasteful to prepare but otherwise perfectly edible.

"When it comes to food value and their place in a well-rounded diet," the department said, "the onion supplies some minerals and some vitamins B and C when eaten raw in sandwiches and salads."

Has A Double

British Weekly Runs A Picture Purporting To Be Prime Minister

Prime Minister Mackenzie King has a double living in London. Existence of the double was brought to light after the British weekly news-magazine, News Review, ran a picture purporting to be that of Canada's prime minister.

A few weeks later a letter explaining that the picture was of writer, Sir John Ernest Houston, one-time acting governor of Bombay, appeared in the magazine.

Sir John said the picture was taken at a garden party in London at the time of the coronation of King George in May, 1937.

"The wrong identification has only amused me and my friends, but may possibly cause annoyance to Mr. Mackenzie King," Sir John wrote.

News-Review, which published in the same issue profile pictures of Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his double, remarked on the "striking resemblance."

A Useful Language

Esperanto Would Contribute Largely To Peace Of The World

It is a little over 50 years since a Polish eye doctor devised a new and easily-learned language he called Esperanto, which, he hoped, would be taught in every country so that one day it would become an auxiliary universal language enabling people in every country to talk or write to each other. Progress has not been made to the extent anticipated by the inventor or those who took it up, although at the present time there are about a million people who are Esperantists.

There seems, however, to be a quickening of interest. At a convention in Edinburgh recently a high school teacher from Aberdeen reported that in his school voluntary classes were formed and over one hundred boys are learning the language rapidly. Although the classes were only started last year the boys were already carrying on correspondence with other Esperantists in France, Holland, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Bulgaria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. It was also revealed that Esperanto is being added to the accomplishments of British Boy Scouts and a national shield is being competed for.

It is certainly a remarkable and interesting thing that schoolboys with only about a year's study should be able to correspond with boys in nine other countries. Ten countries and ten languages but all able to write and speak the same tongue. Obviously valuable and interesting friendships are being formed, enabling these lads to understand the viewpoints of each other. If Esperanto were taught in every school throughout the world what a useful thing it would be to the people of every country.

Esperanto seems to lack friends in high places but if boys and girls were required to learn it as a secondary language instead of French, German, Italian and the rest, it would simplify education and contribute to the peace of the world.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

A Good Foundation

Sermon On Mount Once Suggested As Guide For British Foreign Relations

Several years ago, in the British House of Commons, a member had made a statement of principles which he believed should guide the foreign relations of the Empire. He went on to say that he believed the policy should be based on the Sermon on the Mount.

At this point another member rose to protest, saying, "Gentlemen, gentlemen, if you are going to base the foreign policy of the British Empire on the Sermon on the Mount, then all I have to say is 'God help England.'"

The other speaker, answered, "And He will."

National Veterans' Survey

Appeal Is Being Made For Voluntary Registration

To further the plans of the veterans' organizations to make a national veterans' survey, decided upon at a conference of the presidents of the national veterans' organizations in Toronto on January 26, committees are now being set up in each province to conduct registrations of returned men and women.

An appeal is being made for voluntary registration immediately, so that information as to resources of the personnel available in case of national emergency arising out of the tense international situation, for service in Canada, will be on hand.

The Dominion committee stresses that enrollment is entirely voluntary, does not constitute enlistment in any sense and imposes no obligation, but information is required as to the numbers who might be available if required, their location and details of their qualifications, which applies to all men and women who have served previously in any capacity.

It is pointed out that a great deal of this information will be available from ex-servicemen's organizations operating in the several provinces, and that many of these organizations are not members of any of these organizations and they are being asked to register at the nearest branch of any such association.

An offer to conduct this survey was made by the national veterans' organizations to the Federal authorities and was accepted.

True Facts About Hockey

English Manuscript Of 1527 Tells Of Its Early Origin

"Hockey, played on grass, with a ball instead of a puck, was 'invented' in England (about 60 years ago), says the Stratford Beacon-Herald, "and ice hockey, although now regarded as the supreme winter game in Canada, owes its origin to the fact that when some young men came from England as members of a governor-general's staff, they played hockey on the frozen rivers and ponds for exercise."

The fact is, however, that ground hockey in the Old Country, in one form or another, is a very old game. A manuscript of 1527 refers to "the game (hockey) of the little ball with hockie sticks or staves." This was perhaps not very different from what was also called bandy in England, shinty (or shinty) in Scotland, and hurling in Ireland. Bandy stick as (hurling) of the end of the (hurl) referred to the end of the human extremities to-day. And "bandying" words is sending the conversational ball (or puck) back and forth—just an old hockey custom.—Toronto Star Weekly.

East Farm Problems

Plight Of Agriculturists Of Major National Concern

Canada can never "develop and prosper as she should" until some of the problems confronting the farming industry have been solved," F. W. Walsh, director of marketing for Nova Scotia, warned at the agricultural conference among the Dominion's five eastern provinces.

Termining the plight of the eastern farmers specifically as of "major national concern," Walsh called for "definite collective planning" to rehabilitate the industry.

Outlining the purpose of the parity, the Nova Scotia director told the delegates from five provinces it had been called because of the many problems hinging on the monetary returns to the producers. It was recognized that "much of the depressed condition which Canada finds herself in at the present time" was caused by lack of purchasing power on the part of the primary producers, and of this group agriculture was the most important.

The conference was mainly a fact-finding gathering aimed at improved marketing and co-ordination between the provinces. Its delegates represented all phases of agriculture.

Walsh said that out of the assembly was expected to come a permanent or continuing committee that would carry its recommendations further and "devise ways and means of putting the recommendations into effect."

Line Elevators Protest Against 60-Cent Wheat

Offer further aid in seeking justice for farmer at Ottawa

"Line Elevators will lend support in seeking justice for the Western producer at Ottawa," said W. E. Robertson, at Calgary president of the Western Grain Dealers' Association, in protesting against the Dominion Government's 60-cent wheat guarantee legislation.

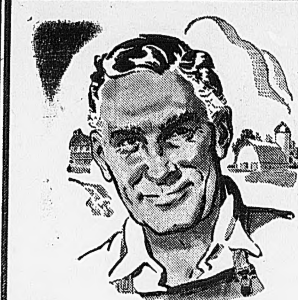

In a statement issued, he said: "The Western Grain Dealers' Association, operating some 1,000 country elevators in Alberta, has given unqualified and loyal support to the work of the Grain Committee, and, in particular, has supported the continuation of a price of at least 80c for Northern, basis Port William, under a Wheat Board, as no other order will be to the producers of Western Canada during the abnormal conditions which prevail in the international wheat markets of the world. Any support is, in plain language, a desertion of the great unprotected industry of wheat-growing which means so much to the national life of Canada and on which Western Canada is absolutely dependent."

"The present proposal of the Dominion Government for a 60-cent wheat price represents an average price for One Northern of approximately 40c on the farm. Notwithstanding any supplementary legislation providing for additional aid to farmers in agricultural districts on a relief basis, the announced policy means that the wheat industry has been completely abandoned to the disaster that must overtake it if it is left subject to international forces which it cannot control, and that Western Canada will be treated as a depressed area and Western farmers as relief recipients."

"We cannot believe that Western Members of the Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons will, if the facts are placed before them, accept any such surrender. The Western Grain Dealers' Association, therefore, will lend whatever support they can to any representations in favour of justice to the Western producer that may be made: the Agricultural Committee of a body to whom the whole matter should, in our opinion, be at once referred."

Easter Service will be held in the United Church Sunday. All are welcome.

Gilbert Gilbertson went to Mr. O. D. Harrington's last week where he will work this Summer.

"I've protected myself, my family and my home"

"I USED TO WORRY about what I would do when I got too old for work, and about what would happen to my family if I should die."

"All of these worries have disappeared — thanks to my Life Insurance. Now I know that I will have a comfortable nest-egg when I'm 60 or 65, so that my wife and I can take things easy. And if I don't live to old age, then Life Insurance will provide my wife with money to pay the bills and help give my children an education."

Like this typical farmer, tens of thousands of other Canadians are today enjoying new peace of mind and new security through their regular savings in Life Insurance.
